NARRATIVE:

Williams, a documented member of the Crips street gang, has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 21. His convictions include inflicting corporal injury on a spouse, conspiracy to commit a crime, felon in possession of firearm, trespassing, vandalism, possess burglary tools, contempt of court: disobey court order, and violation of parole. Williams longest prison term was two (2) years in state prison for inflicting corporal injury on spouse. Williams was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on April 31, 2013. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in November 2013 after he absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Williams, qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense for inflicting corporal injury on a spouse is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. His prior criminal history, gang association, and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted. If you know his whereabouts please contact...
